INDEX II.

GENERALITIES.

MATTERS of general interest are referred to in this index; and various items upon different topics in all parts of the volume are here grouped together under their appropriate heads. The figures, as in Index I., indicate the pages and consecutive numbers where found.

This index also contains references (one only for each page) to the names of all towns, cities, colleges, battle-fields, etc., mentioned in the volume; so that Sanbornton's connection with these other localities, whether more or less intimate, can be readily determined.
