NHMA Legislative Update

Quick point of your attention to HB111 – the bill would eliminate various immunities that have traditionally protected local officials and employees. From NHMA's 10th Legislative Bulletin "The bill implicitly repeals RSA 31:104, which protects local board members and other officials from liability for damages for decisions made in good faith and within the scope of their authority. It expressly supersedes RSA 507-B, which shields municipalities from tort liability in some circumstances and provides damage limitations in cases where immunity does not apply. It states that the individual official will not be financially liable (the municipality will be instead), but oddly allows the municipality to fire the individual. It raises the question of why anyone would ever be willing to work for a municipality."
